

THE BOY IN THE BLITZ— ADOLF, WHY?

BRIAN DAVID WILLIAMS

Front-cover photos:

- The Williams family — Rose, baby Clarice, Clarence, Brian. Not long after this portrait was made, the family was bombed out, on 20th November 1940.
- The Bull Ring — the market area at the centre of Birmingham — after the bombing of 9th April 1941. St. Martin's Church survived, though damaged. In the foreground is the ruins of the Vandyk photographic studio where Brian's mother worked before her marriage.
- From the cover of a 1943 edition of Hitler's book «Mein Kampf»
